

Ronald J. Hanson

Executive Vice President Minnesota Operations

Ronald J. Hanson is executive vice president for The Boldt Company – Minnesota Operations.

Hanson has over 32 years of experience in the construction industry. Since joining Boldt in 1985 Hanson has gained experience in virtually all phases of construction, from estimating and contracts administration, to cost engineering and project management. Hanson led efforts diversifying Boldt to become one of Northern Minnesota's top general contractors.

Hanson oversees the staff's estimating and project management efforts, gives direction and guidance to the staff, and administers project contracting, project procurement, and the overall operational management of the Minnesota entity. He and his staff have directed industrial, institutional and commercial projects for paper and mining companies, universities, manufacturing and healthcare.

Hanson is a graduate of Mankato State College with a Bachelors Degree in Business Administration.

Hanson is on the board of directors of the Minnesota Safety Council, a local EDA commissioner, a Paul Harris Fellow and member of Rotary.
